A Boy's IDEAS OF HEADS .- "Heads are of different shapes and sizes. They are full of notions. Large heads do not always hold the most. Some people can tell just what a man one cleaner. Give it at ial. most. Some people can tell just what a man is by the shape of his head. High heads are the best kind. Very knowing people are called long-headed. A fellow that won't stop for anything or anybody is called hot headed. If he is not quite so bright, they call him softheaded; if he won't be coaxed or turned they call him pig-headed. Animals have small heads. The heads of fools slant back. Our heads are all covered with hair except bald heads. Incre are other heads besides our heads. There are barrel heads, heads of sermons-and some ministers used to have fifteen heads to one sermon; heads of cattle, as the farmer calls his cows and oxen; head-winds, drum-heads, cabbage-heads, logger-heads; come to head like a boil; heads of chapters, head him off, head of the family, and go-ahead—but first be sure you're right."—Young America.

HEALTH.—Henry C. Hallowell, esq., in his address before the Montgomery county (Md.) Agricultural Society, at its twentieth annual "We cannot labor without health. Prof. yndall, says, in all his addresses to students exhibition at Rockville, last week, said : Tyndall, says, in all his addresses to students, "take care of your health. It cannot be accomplished by desultory or intermittent efforts of the will, but by the formation of habits." Upon his authority he drew the attention of from China and Porcelaia. young people to the growing custom of extending their evening companies into the night. It is not possible for persons to rest in the intervening time sufficiently to compensate one for the loss of sleep. Sooner or later nature demands the penalty for every violated law. Without physical strength life is a drag, duty a task, and as the mind sympathizes with the body, one's capacity for usefulness is abridged.'
